

PAUL WALLINGOTN

ARTIST

ABOUT

Paul mostly paints in oil, occasionally drawing considerable inspiration from South African poetry and literature as well as the physical space of his studio. His paintings exist as a part of an ongoing narrative that occurs from an amalgamation of reference material which comes from a myriad of sources both historical and contemporary

Paul's paintings seem to be a meeting point of history and paint and a continued splicing of jarred narratives where it is up to the viewer to piece together the outcome

Significant links to artists like Francisco Goya and Francis Bacon are evident in Paul's paintings.
